Prices Received by Fishermen
1939-74

Prepared in the
Statistics and Market News Division
Office Of Resource Utilization
Washington, D.C.
June 1975

This publication revises and updates Prices Received by Fishermen, Historical Statistics No. 12, Current Fishery Statistics No. 4657 (Revised), which was issued August 1970. The exvessel prices used in this publication are the average prices that fishermen receive for their products, generally at the point of first sale. Basic data refer to landings and value data used to compute the prices.

The weights shown at the top of each table are the equivalent market forms in which the fish are sold. Round weight refers to fish that are marketed just as they come from the water. Dressed weight refers to fish that are scaled and eviscerated, usually with the head, tail, and fins also removed. Meat weight is the edible meat ready for cooking and eating without bones or waste.

All of the publications listed at the bottom of each table are from the National Marine Fisheries Service, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, formerly the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, U.S. Department of the Interior.
